

A BRAKEMAN'S PAINFUL WOUND.

He Fell While Trying to Uncouple an Engine.

A Big Scalp Wound Stitched Up by Dr. F. H. Payne.

Wm. Acheson, son of the late proprietor of the Acheson hotel, was hurt this morning by a fall from the nine o'clock train at North Berkeley. He was on the cowcatcher as the train came in and was about to uncouple the engine before the train stopped, when he slipped and fell to the ground. The corner of the steps of the car behind the engine struck his head, inflicting a very painful wound. The skin was torn from his scalp in a space of two or three square inches and was knocked insensible. The injured man was carried into S. Jones drug store and Dr. F. H. Payne was summoned. Eight stitches were required in dressing the wound. Luckily the skull was not fractured and the injured man is in no danger.

At 11 o'clock the patient was removed to his home on University avenue near Oxford street. He is a brakeman on the local trains.

AN ENTERPRISING CONCERN.

The Hawley Drug Company, successor to Kelsey's Pharmacy, is an enterprising concern, and is meeting with the recognition and success due to enterprise and merit. Dr. Hawley, who is at the head of the concern, is progressive and painstaking. He believes in selling as cheaply as possible, thereby securing a large patronage, which he is sure to hold. A glance at his prices and an inspection of his stock will convince buyers that they will consult their best interests by purchasing of him.

The Nazarenes will conduct a cottage meeting tonight at the residence of R. H. Bosworth, on University avenue between Seventh and Eighth streets, West Berkeley.

C. L. Marvin of Los Angeles was in town today on business.

Deputy Coroner J. T. Straightiff is laid up with the grip.

DEATH OF MISS ROSENSTERN.

Untimely End of a Well-Known Young Lady.

Death Came After Three Weeks' Illness With Typhoid Fever.

Miss Frances Florence Rosenstern, daughter of Dr. Julius Rosenstern and a very well known and popular young lady in local musical and social circles, died late on Saturday evening at her home, 2617 Babcock way. Her untimely end is mourned by a very large number of friends. She was a member of the Junior class of the University. The deceased had been suffering with typhoid fever for about three weeks. It was thought a week ago that the crisis had been passed. The patient was very near death and half a dozen physicians were in attendance. The crisis was passed and the young lady was thought to be on the road to recovery when the fatal relapse came. The disease is believed to have been brought on by the bad drinking water at the University.

The bereaved family is one of the best known in Berkeley. Dr. Rosenstern is a prominent physician in San Francisco. In addition to the parents, a sister, Miss Emily O. Rosenstern, and two brothers, Eric and Alfred, survive the deceased.

The funeral will take place at 8:45 o'clock tomorrow morning from the family residence.

Results of Last Saturday's Field Day.

Four New College Records and Three Track Records Are Established.

The athletic carnival Saturday afternoon was a magnificent success. Four new U. C. records were established and three track records broken. Drum covered the 220 in 23 seconds, which makes a record for our track and is equal to a 22 percent performance on a straightaway. Bakewell made the 120 yard hurdle in 16.1 and the 220 hurdle in 26.2-3, both new records for our track. The most noteworthy performances however were in the walk, broad jump, pole vault and shot put. Walsh walked his mile in 7:21, taking 1-5 second from Griffin's last year mark of 7:24 1-5. Broughton made a magnificent showing at the broad jump, three of his leaps being over 22 feet, and the winning leap covering 22 ft. 9 1/2 in., 7 inches better than Woolsey's record made in the East in '95. Roy Woolsey added three inches to Kogel's record of 39 feet 7 inches. Jack Hoffman in the pole vault broke Lloyd's record of 10 ft. 9 1/2 in., and then went after more glory and cleared 11 ft. neatly, breaking the coast record of 10 ft. 10 1-2 in. held by Dale of Stanford.

Hinz 01 ran a plucky 440, paced by Drum, in 55. Guiberson showed up promisingly with 128 feet in the hammer throw, considerably better than Fickert's 121 last Saturday.

The crowd was large and enthusiastic. Tom Gregory, Stanford's track manager, and Charlie Dole, Stanford's hurdle and pole vaulter, watched the events with critical interest. Though there was no competition between the classes, it is interesting to note that the Freshmen scored 41 points, the Sophomores 35, Seniors 18 and Juniors 13. This would have been altered considerably if all the men entered on the program had contested in their events.

Following is a summary of the events:

100 yd dash: Drum 00; Woolsey 01; Broughton 00. Time 10 2-5 seconds.
220 yd dash: Drum 00; Hinz 01. Time 23 seconds.
440 yd dash: Hinz 01, paced in 55 seconds.
Half mile run: W. Carpenter 99; Mosier 01; Scott 01. Time 2:05.
Mile run: Carroll 99; Tolman 01; L. Carpenter 01. Time 4:44 4-5.
Mile walk: Walsh 01; Westfield 00; De Lashmuit 01; Time 7:24.
120 yd hurdles: Bakewell 98; Dawson 00; Miller 98. Time 16 seconds.
220 yd hurdle: Bakewell 98; Woolsey 01; Dawson 00. Time 26 2-5 seconds.
Running high jump: Hoffmann 00; Bakewell 98; Miller 98. Height 5 ft 9 3-4 in.
Running broad jump: Broughton 00; Woodrum 01; H. S.; Brock B. H. S. Distance 22 ft 9 1-2 in.
Pole vault: Hoffmann 00; Muma 98. Winning height 10 ft 10 in.
In exhibition Hoffman cleared 11 ft.
Shot put: Woolsey 01; Guiberson 01; Peck 00. Distance 40 ft.
Hammer throw: Guiberson 01; Hooper 99. Distance 128 ft.

Woods, Pastor, Superintendent, Pacific Coast; Rev. E. A. Woods, Baptist church, San Francisco; Rev. C. H. Holm, First Baptist church, Oakland; Rev. C. M. Hill, President, State Mission Board, pastor of Pentecost church, Oakland; Rev. E. Bennett, Twenty-third avenue church, Oakland; Rev. V. G. Thompson, Second Baptist church, Col.; Rev. W. H. Laton, State Missionary; Rev. S. C. Keech, Golden Gate church; Rev. J. Sundekof, Superintendent, Foreign Missions.

Among the pastors of other denominations were: Rev. George B. Hatch, First Congregational church, Berkeley; Rev. J. R. Coyle, Trinity M. E. church, Berkeley; Rev. J. F. Elston, Christian church, Berkeley; and Rev. Buchanan.

The orchestra consisted of the following: Mr. Goldsmith, 1st violin; Mr. Cunes, 2d violin; Miss Shields, 3d violin; L. M. Pratt, violoncello.

The congregation sang "How Firm a Foundation." Rev. R. Whitaker led the invocation. The choir rendered a beautiful anthem. Rev. W. H. Laton delivered the opening prayer. Rev. E. A. Woods preached a strong and able sermon on "The Truth," demonstrating by an apt simile drawn from the Puget Sound mountain ranges, the stability and permanence of truth.

The following financial statement was rendered by the pastor: Church debt July 1, 1907, $2100. Pledges by church, $2147. Pledges by Home Mission, $1000. To be raised about $300. Given on condition these amounts were raised: By Dr. H. Law, $3250; by Mrs. H. Law, $1750. Total, when $300 is raised, $8400.

Pledges were taken amounting to $223. The rest was assumed by the pastor.

Rev. G. B. Hatch gave a hearty welcome to the Baptist brotherhood, paying a compliment to the work of Baptist leaders. Some one clapped his hands and the whole audience followed. His address was unique and beautiful.

Rev. S. C. Keech extended congratulations in behalf of the sister churches.

Rev. Sunderlund declared this the most important Baptist movement in California and spoke enthusiastically of the success of the work. Dr. H. C. Woods with feeble frame but with strong emotion spoke of the fostering care of the Home Mission Society.

RABBI VOORSANGER'S LECTURE.

Rabbi Voorsanger lectured last night before the Unitarian Society on "Historical versus Supernatural Revelation." The rabbi intimated in a brief introduction that he was likely to say some things that would offend his hearers, and then proceeded to startle many of his auditors by including in one category three supernatural revelations of the world—that of Mount Sinai, that of Christ and the Mohammedan. He characterized the claim of adherents of any of the special revelations, that it was an exclusive message and necessary to salvation as "unbearable insistence."

The speaker said that each dispensation had followed the same line. "The old Israelite built a wall of exclusiveness more insurmountable than the great wall of China, the Christian sharpened his cross into a sword and held it at the throat of every unbeliever, and the Mohammedan started forth to save the world by violence."

After an eloquent review of the main points of the three revelations, the Rabbi declared that he believed in revelation but held it to be continuous throughout all time, and not given in isolated examples.

AWAKENED BY THE SMOKE.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews Narrowly Escape Death.

Their Two-Story Residence Entirely Destroyed Early Yesterday Morning.

The residence of James E. Matthews on Baker and Mason streets, near the narrow gauge track, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday morning about 3 o'clock.

Mr. Matthews was awakened by the smoke, which filled his room and which almost asphyxiated him. He awakened his wife and the two attempted to pass through the doorway to safety. The flames cut off their retreat in that direction, so Mr. Matthews lifted his wife through a window and followed her to the ground.

Alarms were turned in at Berkeley and Oakland. The Oakland firemen learned the blaze was in this city and did not respond.

The Columbus, however, turned out and made a gallant attempt to save the building. The building was almost destroyed by the time they reached the scene, and this fact, coupled with the complete absence of water, rendered the firemen helpless. Nothing was saved but some wearing apparel.

It is not known how the flames originated. The building was two stories high and cost $3000. Mr. Matthews is uncertain as to whether he will receive any insurance. He is under the impression that the policy expired a couple of weeks ago.

WELL-DIGGING ENTERPRISE

A. J. Lopez and James O'Neill have formed a copartnership to dig wells. In view of the probability that there will be a great scarcity of water this summer, people are preparing to have their own wells sunk. They will thus save money and ensure a supply of good water. Messrs. Lopez and O'Neill have a great deal of skill and experience in the well-digging business, their most notable success being the well on the property of the Claremont University and Ferries Railway on Sacramento street, between Addison street and University avenue. They will also supply brick and all other material used in the business. Their office is in George Schmidt's real estate office, Berkeley station.

WORK FOR ALL.

It matters not how dull the times, Berkeley property goes on changing hands just the same, and new buildings are being erected on every hand. These are pretty good indications that Berkeley is the right sort of a city and that its future is assured. In this connection it might be suggested that our people should do a little more towards advertising Berkeley. In their letters to friends in the East and elsewhere, and when traveling in other places, they should never lose the opportunity to tell of the beauties and advantages of Berkeley.

The newspapers are doing everything in their power to make the city known throughout the country, but to make the work complete the active and intelligent co-operation of the general public is necessary. Berkeleyans are noted for their pride in the city; now let them give substantial token of their desire to see it recognized all over the country as the most desirable place to live in.

WHAT TO EXPECT.

Alameda has a thorough appreciation of what could be expected if Oakland managed to secure control of its neighboring municipalities as the following from the Argus shows:

"The doings in official Oakland are as usual attracting a great deal of attention. There is head-cracking among the city officials, as there nearly always is. The Grand Jury is laying its hand upon the mayor's family, and the mayor retaliates by putting out of office some of those who gave the Grand Jury evidence. It is a beautiful row. We wonder why Alameda is not fierce to annex itself to a city where such a condition is chronic, where the performance is continuous, as they have it some of the variety shows?"

A STUDENT'S EXPLANATION.

EDITOR GAZETTE: "In an editorial of the latest issue of the California Christian Advocate the students of the University were accused of holding midnight carousals and getting 'heavily drunk' on the campus over the celebration of the annual 'Beer-bust.' The editor says that on the evening before Charter Day some 150 students came together on the campus and not a few drank until they were 'heavily drunk.' He also states that there were many on-lookers who 'took no part in the indecent affair.'

Now the truth of the matter is about this, and we are sorry the Advocate did not look the facts up before it published its article. On the night of Charter Day, which is the anniversary of founding the University, some forty or fifty students gathered in Ben Weed's amphitheatre where they sang college songs, made short speeches and were generally merry after the fashion of college students the world over. Beer, eggs, sandwiches, sausage and waffles were the refreshments, and as to anyone becoming 'heavily drunk,' the quantity of beer which is said to have been in evidence does not warrant it.

The affair was conducted in a gentlemanly and decent fashion and any noisiness or vulgarity was quickly stopped.

The two lower classes were out on the hills preparing to rush in the morning and so many of the objectionable markers of Berkeley were drawn to the hills and to the amphitheatre. Many of these simulated drunkenness, and some of the students themselves assumed feigned 'jags' in order to find out the plans of their opponents in the prospective rush. As a rule these affairs are conducted quietly and decently and differ very little from the ordinary banquets of San Francisco, save that they are held out of doors about a bonfire and that the refreshments are far simpler and less in quantity. The Advocate says of the 'beer bust': 'Presumably it was copied after some semi-heathen orgie of medieval Germany.' Such language speaks for itself and needs no comment from us.

As to the affair being a 'disgrace to the University,' we beg to differ.

STUDENT.

Used to Tickle Pharaoh.

"So you refused him?" said Maud.

"Yes," replied Mamie. "I told him I shall send back any letters unopened."

"I wouldn't be so rude. There might be matinee tickets in some of them."

"What do you mean when you allude to our friend as a 'hypercritical person?'"

"A hypercritical person," answered Senator Sorghum, "is one who subjects things to unreasonable tests. He is the sort of man who will take a speech that has made a hit and sit calmly down and try to parse it."

BULGER'S REPUTATION.

In the sober silence that followed the judge's last words a shuffle was heard at the door, and a tall, lean man walked in bearing an air of logs. It was the old man familiarly known as Bill, the keeper of their host's camp, a quiet, white haired, harmless fellow. Some thought him a little "touched," but every one respected him. He was just a gentle, unassuming man with an air of latent strength and suffering about him that gave him a dignity of his own. Something in the significant way the judge looked at his servant attracted the attention of the rest.

"Godfrey! Uncle! So that's the man that killed Burns." The young collegian jumped up as the old man left the room. "I always thought there was something queer about him." The hydraulic engineer shook his head sadly at this impulsive conclusion. But the captain said in an intense way:

"Go on, judge." Judge Chambers could not help showing in his face the gratification that a true friend feels when he has successfully evaded a climax.

He proceeded with no undue haste. "Of course the new jury that was impaneled, a quitted the said George Writhams, without leaving their seats. It took six men to hold the blacksmith that night before he was put in a strait jacket and lodged in a padded cell. His confession cleared up the Burns mystery and the grand jury brought in a true bill against him, to be served when he should recover his sanity, if ever."

"In six months' William Worthely was a model patient, quiet and trustworthy, and his case was to be considered in the next spring term. While he was pronounced sane enough about matters of the present moment he had forgotten absolutely everything about his life preceding his confession. Even the very elements of his trade had been lost to his mind and hands. He could now no more shoe a horse than he could write a novel. He had even forgotten his name, his neighbors and the village he lived in. He was a new man, just as if he had been born again in that asylum into a new world. You can't let a milder case upon the community, and you can't hang a man who doesn't remember his crime, even if he has confessed. It is a question if any man ought to be punished on his own confession uncorroborated by evidence. But that is another matter for another time. The problem was what to do with Worthely."

Matters drifted, just as the snow did that heavy winter. Some wanted him tried, others wanted him shut up in the asylum for life, and a few wanted him out. At that time a railroad accident occurred near Hartford. A bridge gave way and a freight train went through. A tramp was brought to the hospital terminally hurt. When he was told that he could not possibly live more than a day or so he sent for a Methodist minister and made a confession. Among other things he said he killed a man in a barn in Lincoln on an evening of the preceding June. He had crept into a pile of hay to sleep for the night. The farmer came out and had a discussion in the barn with some body who had come in with him. This man had a hatchet in his hand, which he had stuck into the head of a stall. Their conversation was entirely friendly, and they shook hands in parting, the man forgetting his hatchet. Somehow or other the farmer happened to stick a pitchfork into the hay by accident and the tramp jumped from his concealment. The farmer ordered him out and threatened him. The tramp was a taller, larger man and laughed his best to scorn. Thereupon the farmer reached for the hatchet. This was snatched from his hand and buried in his brain. The tramp, who had entered the town at dusk unobserved, sneaked out and left the same way.

"What on earth did Worthely confess, then, for?" interrupted the collegian eagerly.

"It often happens that a man confesses a crime in delirium. But if he hadn't confessed," continued the judge slowly, "the wrong man would have been hung."

"And if the blacksmith hadn't continued insane he would have been hung," said the hydraulic engineer. "But what did Burns say?" "Williams," insisted the student. "That was enough to condemn the Englishman." "He probably tried to say that Williams was innocent and died in the attempt. Dying statements are very unimportant keys with which to lock a man up," answered the justice gravely.

"Say uncle is that William Worthely?" Judge Chambers regarded his nephew quizzically and smiled at the boy's curiosity.

"I think it's about time to turn in, don't you?" he said.

THE END.

It Works Well.

"Do you believe that honesty is the best policy, Rodden?" "Most assuredly. I make all my money out of my honest customers." Detroit Free Press

A team belonging to an Oakland upholsterer ran away this morning at Stanford place. A plasterer employed on the Schmidt building, courageously brought the animal to a halt. Sec. 3346 of the Political Code makes it the duty of the Assessor to "demand" Poll Tax of every person liable thereon, and on the neglect or refusal of such person to pay, he must collect by seizure and sale of any personal property owned by such person.

Under Sections 429 to 435 every person who refuses to give his own name or the name of any person in his employ, or who in any manner obstructs the Assessor or any of his deputies in the collection of the State Poll Tax, is guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to a fine of $500 or imprisonment in the County Jail, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Only those persons under twenty-one and over sixty years of age are exempt. Tax must be paid on demand.
